Customers

Amazon clothes sells clothes online. Customers come into the store, have meetings with a personal stylist, then they can go home and order either on a mobile app or website for the clothes they want.

The company is trying to decide whether to focus their efforts on their mobile app or website.

Use "Customers" data.